

A group of special forces soldiers in full tactical gear, including helmets with night vision goggles and gas masks, are walking through a chaotic, fiery environment. The scene is filled with orange and yellow light from fires and explosions, with debris and smoke in the air. The soldiers are carrying rifles and appear to be in the middle of a mission.

LEGACY OF LIES 2

Martin, an MI6 operative, Lisa, his 17 year old daughter, and Sasha a journalist determined to make her mark, join forces to recover Ukrainian children kidnapped by Russian terrorists.

Lisa is teaching Alina and Stas English when two Russian-speaking officers burst into the room and drag the children away. Shortly after an assassin sneaks into the safe house where Lisa and Martin live, but Martin fights him off, leaving the house in ruins.

Lisa begs Martin to help her find Alina and Stas, but he refuses, saying it's too dangerous. Lisa contacts Sasha, who discovers that the children are being taken to a Russian summer camp for "re-education."

Lisa and Sasha plan to cross the front lines to rescue the children, but Sasha insists on going alone. Lisa shows up unexpectedly and joins the mission, which takes them across a river into Russian-occupied territory.

Martin, left alone in Kyev follows them deep into enemy territory in a desparate mission to rescue the children
